50TH YEAR BEGINS WITH GOOD HEALTH!

On its 50th year, Venus Jewel extends its ethical business practices from the diamond industry into the healthcare space. Inaugurated by Honourable Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi, Venus Jewel revives the oldest hospital in Surat into a multi-specialty state-of-the-art facility.

Smt. Rasilaben Sevantalil Shah Venus Hospital

Multi-specialty state-of-the-art Facility

Driven to create an entirely new type of diamond manufacturing and polishing company, devoted to serving its customers, its people and the beauty of each diamond placed in its trust, brothers Sevantalil and Ramniklal Shah founded Venus Jewel in 1969. Between them, they saw an opportunity to take the Indian diamond trade to new heights of quality and craftsmanship. In the years that followed, Venus Jewel became an industry innovator, internationally renowned for setting new standards in ethical business practices, diamond cutting, polish quality, pricing and employee care. Such passion has lead the Shah family to fortify the same set of Venus philosophies, principles and methodology into the healthcare industry by rejuvenating the oldest hospital in the city of Surat into a state of the art facility, focused on delivering superior healthcare to all patients entering its facilities. Recently the Honourable Prime Minister of India Shri Narendra Modi inaugurated the multi-specialty 201 bed 'Smt. Rasilaben Sevantalil Shah Venus Hospital.'

The Prime Minister was joined by the Chief Minister of the State of Gujarat, Shri Vijay Rupani, Minister of State for Health, Shri Kishore Kanani, Members of Parliament, Mr. C. R. Patil and Mrs. Darshana Jordosh, along with guests and industry leaders from Mumbai, Surat and Antwerp.

The Shah family is dedicated and working effortlessly to fulfil the vision of their founder Sevantalil Shah. His desire is to create a world class hospital in the city of Surat. To do this, the three generations have been working to benchmark global standards in healthcare services and create a hospital that ethically utilises such practices whilst provide excellent patient care. Because of such vision, it was a humbling experience to have the Prime minister recognise their efforts, and take time from his very busy schedule to acknowledge this hospital with a personal visit. The Prime Minister in his speech complimented Mr. Sevantalil Shah by saying: "A few days back, family members of Sevantibhai came to Delhi and explained the entire project in detail and explained how his entire family has been involved and future plans for this hospital. It was because of his insistence that I come here to the hospital. My relation with Sevantibhai is so old that I could not deny his request. I am here today because of my closeness to him, our family relations, and the respect I have for him and his family. Watching Sevantibhai, we can see how business can be done successfully which yields positive employment without compromising on any values. In the business world and in life, he has distinct values; He does not compromise and is committed to them. I will always have respect for him as well as his family."

He goes on saying: "This hospital is not only for Surat but a gift to the entire state of Gujarat and its healthcare services. Till now only stones were brightened and diamonds were made by him and his family, and now his mind is in the path of providing services for humanity."

The aim of the Venus Hospital is to provide quality healthcare and ensure patients receive the exact care they need. The goal is to minimise unnecessary costs, whilst attracting Doctors and staff who want to make a difference in their field of practice. In his speech, Mr. Shah said "There is no one better than the Honourable Prime Minister, Mr. Narendrabhai Modi to inaugurate such a hospital whose aim is centred around ethical medical practices. Despite being a leader for 18 years and holding important positions of the ruling party, there has been no change in his or his family's lifestyle. This is a testimony of Narendrabhai's principles and integrity. It is commendable that the Government of India's Ayushman Bharat Scheme has focused on providing high quality healthcare to millions of people, no matter where they are from or what their income level may be." Mr. Shah adds; This year is the golden jubilee anniversary of Venus Jewel, which was started by my brother Ramnikbhai and I in 1969. It is a pleasure that in such a year, this hospital is dedicated by Venus Jewel to the community...."

Venus Jewel in its 50 years of existence has earned the respect around the world as a visionary leader in a timeless industry that draws on the past as it looks to the future. The Venus Hospital with the support of three generations of the Shah family will continue the Venus legacy and leadership to provide ethical support, great technology and superior healthcare for those in need of medical attention. The Prime Minister in his speech quoted a Sanskrit mantra which sums up the heart of the Shah family, as they wish this for all: "May all be prosperous and happy, may all be free from illness, may all see what is spiritually uplifting, may no one suffer, Om, peace, peace, peace ..."
